The Last Straw

Since men started threatening earth, our environment have got worse
I wish I could pretend it doesn't move me
Since men started threatening earth

We had a magic land, the promised one we dreamt of,
Full of beautiful landscapes, rivers, forests, trees we cut off
Little by little, we stole what belonged to mother nature
We were selfish and we ruined remorseless our future

Each state's eager to have power, but forget what matters,
I wish United States had shown the right way
Each state's eager to have power

They just pretend they care but such a lie, they are blind
Only one watchword "GDP", always dollars in their minds
It's about time we raised our voices and took action
Finding the safe balance would be our greatest satisfaction

Since men started threatening earth, our environment have got worse
I wish I could pretend it doesn't move me
Since men started threatening earth

If we carry on that way, our children are gonna die,
Even more cause today some politicians still wonder "why"?
You must look around you and feel the temperature
It's hotter in the winter even hotter in the summer

However you must do better, we all share the blame,
We have lost a battle but not the war yet
However you must do better

The whole California burning, that was the last straw
We should respect environment as a law
The whole California burning

You, listening to us, put your strength in the world's fight
Don't be lazy take your bike, bring your smile we'll be alright
It's the time of our lives, our generation stands up,
Let's the green wave win borders, after that we will cheer up

Since men started threatening earth, our environment have got worse
I wish I could pretend it doesn't move me
Since men started threatening earth

Since men started threatening earth, our environment have got worse
I wish I could pretend it doesn't move me
Since men started threatening earth

Since men started threatening earth, our environment have got worse
I wish I could pretend it doesn't move me
Since men started threatening earth
